NOTES

Economic Retaliation

Flyers put on customers' car referencing declarant's support for Prop 8 and donation amount. Store picked twice. Nov. 2008 picketers were "aggressive" standing in front of store door and trying to give flyers to customers saying not to shop there b/c declarant supports Prop 8. Second picket- people blocked doorway of store and tried to get customers to sign petition. Police called but public space so protesters not forced to leave store.

Unwanted Communication

Three Facebook groups urged boycott of declarant's business. Someone paid for a google sponsor link that urged people to boycott declarant's business and listed her donation to Prop 8. Negative business reviews on yelp.com because declarant supports Prop 8. Other website published negative reviews of store because support Prop 8. Declarant received letter, hundreds of emails and numerous harassing phone calls because of Prop 8 support.

Discomfort with Friends/Family over Differing Views

Thirty to forty people have walked into store and expressed displeasure w/ declarant's views on Prop 8.

Police Action/Inaction

Police called at the second boycott but it was peaceable so protesters were allowed to picket.

Additional Claims

Someone filled cart w/ groceries and checked out. After clerk scanned all groceries, person said not buying them b/c declarant supports Prop 8. Declarant installed 16 security cameras after incidents to protect integrity and safety of products in store.

This is an account of the Fresno death threats arising out of mayor and pastor participation in a Prop 8 rally.

Was the incident described in the media: Y

NOTES

Harassment/Threats During Campaign Activities

This amicus carries another report of the death threat sent to Fresno City Hall and including the mayor (Autry) and a pastor (Franklin) within the email threat. The information comes from a cited TV web story (KFSN-TV). The story also notes that marriage equality supporters are also being harassed. Clovis UU Church had signs torn up and pastor said "every night they endure vandalism because they oppose Prop 8."

NOTES

Job Loss/Fear of Losing Job

Amicus notes a Truro, MA selectmen's vote not to re-appoint a man, Leo Childs, to the volunteer board of fire engineers. Although one selectman raised Mr. Childs' signing a petition opposing marriage equality (information culled from KnowThyNeighbor), the cited story notes that the vote to not re-appoint was unanimous (on a 5-member board) and two other selectmen are quoted as saying they voted for other reasons and that focusing on the petition signing was inappropriate.

Additional Claims

Amicus also cites a March 2009 National Organization for Marriage (NOM) poll of 306 MA voters on a variety of questions around marriage equality. ADF points to the poll result that 36% agreed (24% strongly and 12% not strongly) with the statement that some people they know would be reluctant to admit they oppose "gay marriage" because they would worry about the consequences to them or their children.

The Maine reference is to a school counselor who appeared in a campaign TV ad

Was the incident described in the media: Y
Is the incident referenced in other sources: Y

NOTES

Vandalism

Brief cites to a Maine incident where swastikas were painted on "Yes on One" signs.

Job Loss/Fear of Losing Job

Brief references three job-related incidents: (1) the Oakland, CA mayor's placing on hold the reappointment of 96-year-old Lorenzo Hoopes to the board that oversees Oakland's historic Paramount Theater because of a $26,000 donation to support Prop 8; (2) a MA man who was terminated from a Brookstone's store in 2009 after he told a colleague that her marriage to another woman was wrong (and her bringing it up was offensive) - there was no ballot question in MA at the time; and (3) a Maine high school counselor, Don Mendell, who appeared in a TV ad supporting a ME referendum to repeal marriage equality legislation and against whom a complaint was filed with the state board that licenses social workers. Although press reports state that the effort was to rescind Mendell's license, that was not accurate; the complaint simply alleged violations of the relevant Code of Ethics. The broad allegation is intimidation for engaging in political speech.

NOTES

Unwanted Communication

Reports Park Community Church in Shingle Springs, CA received harassing phone calls (and threatened with lawsuits).

Vandalism

Story collects a list of alleged incidents of church vandalism: (1) Messiah Lutheran in Downey, CA (Yes sign used to smash window in pastor's office); (2) Calvery Chapel Ventura (yard signs stolen and church's large banner stolen); (3) Orangeville CA Mormon church spray-painted with "No on 8"; (4) Family Fellowship Church in Hayward, CA (brick through window); (5) Trinity Baptist Church in Arcata, CA (marquee vandalized, flags stolen, other acts totalling $1,500); (6) Assembly of God in San Luis Obispo (eggs thrown at building and toilet paper strewn on property); and (7) San Luis Obispo Mormon church had adhesive poured on doormat, keypad and a window.

Actual Physical Violence

The pushed 69-year-old Palm Springs woman (Phyllis Burgess). Also retells the story of the evangelical group in the Castro - reports one person hit on the head with her Bible and then shoved to the ground and kicked and reports lewd remarks, thrown hot coffee and a threat of death to group leader.

Harassment/Threats During Campaign Activities

Mentions unspecified death threat to a CA minister (could be Pastor Franklin in Fresno - not clear).

Expressions of Religious Bigotry

Story has more detail about the alleged activities of "Bash Back" at a service of the Mount Hope Assembly of God church in Lansing, MI. There was a distraction protest outside to draw security and then folks inside the church stood up, disrupted the service, threw fliers, pulled the fire alarm and one couple went to the front and kissed in front of the pastor.

Police Action/Inaction

The story notes police involvement in the Castro and launching an investigation in Lansing.

NOTES

Vandalism

This is a story about the big picture of yard signs, focusing on a straight man who was removing signs from public spots, believing it was legal. The story says sign theft and vandalism reported in Santa Ana, Yorba Linda, Huntington Beach, Fountain Valley, Irvine and Laguna Hills. Recounts the 5 arrested in Fullerton, and describes two Irvine incidents. Irvine police say they've "had continued reports on both sides." A "Yes on 8" organizer says the campaign estimates c. 25,000 signs have been stolen or vandalized.

Police Action/Inaction

Police say they don't keep track of the numbers, but Orange County sheriff's department says it has not seen a spike in incidents.

NOTES

Economic Retaliation

This story focuses on economic boycotts. There is El Coyote and Marjorie Christoffersen again and Robert Hoehn and his Honda dealership where there have been protesters. The article also talks of San Diego developer, Doug Manchester, who donated $125,000 and has seen protests against his hotels and lost "several national conventions and conferences." Also, A-1 Self Storage with 30 locations was targeted by Karger's Californians Against Hate because the owner, Terry Caster, and family members donated $693,000. There are also some general assertions that small businesses in Hollywood and West Hollywood have lost customers because of donations in support of Prop 8.

Economic Retaliation

This is a story about Hollywood and thus is about Raddon (not yet resigned) of the LA Film Festival; Scott Eckern (resigned at California Musical Theater); possible Cinemark as a target (because of CEO Alan Stock's contributions); talk of a Sundance boycott (for using a Cinemark theater - but story notes this was going nowhere). Notes Hollywood is wary of boycotts, noting the 8-year Southern Baptist boycott of Disney.

Job Loss/Fear of Losing Job

Mention of Scott Eckern's resignation at California Musical Theater. Richard Raddon on LA Film Festival had offered his resignation but, at the time of this story, it had been rejected. Actual resignation came later.

Focus of story is economic boycotts with particular attention to Lassen's Natural Foods & Vitamins in Ventura (also in Camarillo and Simi Valley). Owner of the Ventura store, Peter Lassen, contributed $27,500. Mentions Doug Manchester, his $125,000 contribution and the call to boycott his two San Diego hotels. Notes that online lists of donors had been published of small businesses and donors as well as major donors such as Container Supply Co. of garden Grove ($250,000). Without being specific, story talks of protests at LA Mexican restaurant (it has to be El Coyote and Christoffersen).

Economic Retaliation

Story is about the call for a boycott of San Diego's Grand Hyatt hotel because its owner, Doug Manchester, donated $125,000 to support Prop 8. Interestingly, while other reports note that the hotel lost two national events, this story states that two gay groups, GLAAD and PlanetOut Inc., moved events scheduled for the hotel. The story notes Terry Caster's gift of $162,500 and Robert Hoehn of Hoehn Motors in Carlsbad ($25,000).

Vandalism

There is a reference to a man jumping up and down on the roof of a squad car.

Actual Physical Violence

Part of this story is about a demonstration outside a Mormon temple in the Westwood section of LA. From this and one other story of the LA event, we know someone threw eggs at the marchers and that the confrontation mentioned here between marchers and occupants of a pickup truck involved the truck's pro-Prop 8 sign being torn and a marcher getting a bloody nose from one truck occupant.

Police Action/Inaction

Police were present at these marches. Seven people were arrested when more than 1,000 people protested and blocked traffic in West Hollywood the day after the election.

Economic Retaliation

This opinion piece talks of a website hosting the names of donors supporting Prop 8. It expressly says it does NOT advocate blacklists or boycotts, but the writer seems to feel that it does because the creator says he would never seek care from a doctor who contributed to Prop 8. The piece seems to believe that a boycott is a breach of civility against those who followed their consciences (and who should not be accused of "hate").

Vandalism

Collects incidents of: (1) glued door locks in Olympia, WA; (2) 8 Mormon buildings in Salt Lake City vandalized; (3) signs converted to swastika at church in Riverside; (4) stealing yard signs in Carlsbad; (5) car and garage and yard sign spray-painted; and (6) cars keyed, signs defaced and a block thrown through an elderly couple's window.

Actual Physical Violence

Recalls the "white powder" incidents at two Mormon temples and the Knights of Columbus headquarters in CT. Tells of Palm Springs woman, Phyllis Burgess, who had an oversized cross ripped from her hands by protesters. Carlsbad man punched two elderly neighbors when confronted about placing a "No" sign in front of their yard's "Yes" sign. Modesto man received 16 stitches under his eye following altercation with a man who tried to steal yard signs - the man was waiting to distribute the signs after a Catholic Mass.

Job Loss/Fear of Losing Job

Describes the resignations of Scott Eckern (California Musical Theater) and Richard Raddon (LA Film Festival) and repeats the story of El Coyote where the manager, Marjorie Christoffersen, was also forced to resign.

Harassment/Threats During Campaign Activities

Describes the Christian group at their weekly event in the Castro facing angry residents who shouted, blew whistles and "sreamed profanities" at them. Also describes the death threats against the Fresno mayor (Autry) and Fresno pastor (Franklin).

Expressions of Religious Bigotry

Tells of the Bash Back action at Mount Hope Church in Lansing, Michigan where the group allegedly disrupted a church services with yelling, the throwing of condoms, pulling the fire alarm and a couple kissing in the front of the church.

Expressions of Racism

Reports on slurs against African-American men attempting to join an anti-Prop 8 protest.

Expressions of Racism

This memo from the PFAW President is broadly about building the relationship between the LGBT and African-American communities. It uses Prop 8 as a jumping-off point, and it notes "appallingly racist ways" that the A-A community was blamed for Prop 8's passage and the fact that A-A supporters were "called racist epithets at protests about Prop 8."
